FOUNDED 1881 No. 14646

While Italy is organising a large army for service spondent in an exclusive audience in Africa—she has just called another 70,000 men to the to-day. colours—the Government is relying for success in any campaign upon its Air Arm. Intensive training of the Italian pilots is being carried out in Sicily with new high speed planes capable of carrying 500 two-pound of war. bombs, either of tear gas or the deadly chlorine or mustard gas, or the very effective shrapnel bombs.

It is understood that the opening of the anticipated Italian campaign in Africa is intended to overwhelm Abyssinia's defenders, for it will burst upon the Ethiopians when massed squadrons of Italy's Air Force roar over Africa. Four hundred planes using tear gas will be sent against the Abyssinians in the first great drive, it is planned.

If pushed to it, the Italians will use poison gas; but the Government is anxious to avoid this measure in view of world opinion and for humane reasons.

They do not wish to antagonise too greatly the population of the country which they desire to colonise, furthermore. Italy wants to conquer Abyssinia, but remain on friendly terms with the people. The Italian troops are being provided with a specially designed light gas-mask. Fifty high speed planes, of the type to be used in the bombing attack upon the Ethiopian lines, have already been manufactured at the Fiat works and are being used for practice. Two hundred more have been ordered. They are twin-engined machines, capable of a speed of 300 miles per hour.

An official communique has been received from London stating that the Italian Ambassador in London has received many exofficers, British soldiers, engineers, doctors and nurses, offering to themselves voluntarily with the Italian forces in the event of war with Abyssinia. The Italian Embassy has expressed ing that while Italy is mobilising appreciation of the offers which troops for service in her colonies, it has transmitted to the Italian new divisions are always being Government with a request for constituted to replace them for

CUTS IN PAY RESENTED

Brieslt, Aug. 6. A serious situation has arisen in the Naval Dockyards here folfowling yesterday's strike, called by arsenal, workers las a protest against ten per cent wage outs under the new economy decree laws.

The workers refused to resume work on the cruiser Dunkirque, while guards remain posted aboard to maintain order.

The workers swarmed into other yards stirring up their comrudes, until the whole dockyard was seething.

Troops and marines tried to round up the workers but mot with n lively bombardment of tools and bottles. The dockyard was eventually closed and the workers manched to town singing the Internationale.—Reuter.

STIFF BATTLE

Briest, Aug, 6. The Government Maritime Arsenal workers abandoned construction of the cruiser Dunkirque and rioted to-day as a protest against pay cuts which were part of the budget balancing economy. They forced the closing of the Arsenal.

The rioters swept into Brest and paraded the streets. Heavy forces of police, troops and mobile guards battled for an hour with the rioters and finally cleared the streets in the vicinity of the Arsenal itself. However, rioting continued in the Rud Siam. Brest's main thoroughfare.

PEIPING AMAZED DETENTION

SEQUEL TO MURDER OF LUANTUNG OFFICER

Peiping, Aug. 6. Mr. Tao Shang-min, Counsellor of the Peiping Political Council, who failed to return to his home after calling at the office of the Japanese Military Attache yesterday to discuss the Luanchow murder, is believed to be detained in the compound of the Japanese Legation. On report states that on Chinese official enquiries being made, a member of the Military Attache's staff explained that Mr. Tao is being detained, "but is being treated well and is helping to solve the problem of Liu Tsu-chow's murder." General amazement is expressed at the Japanese action in detaining a high Chinese official, especially as the detention appears to have been done by a minor, Japanese official. It was later confirmed that the Japanese authorities in Peiping have taken the astonishing step arresting and holding in communicado! the high Chinese official, Mr. Tao Shang-min, apparently in connection with the murder of an offler of the Chinese Peace Preservation

Corps at Luanchow on Sunday. Mr. Tao received a telephone message yesterday afternoon stating that Colonel Giga, of the Japanese Army, would like to see him at Legation Guard barracks. Mr. Tao went there by car, but in the meantime Colonel Giga had left for Tientsin, and junior officers arrested Mr. Tao, who is not allowed to communicate with

It is noteworthy that Mr. Tao was recently removed from an important post in the Luantung demilitarised zone, on the demand of Japanese military officials.

The absence of responsible officers from the Japanese Legation has prevented the Chinese authorities in Peiping from assisting Mr. Tao.

Take heart, fair lady. There is such a face powder, called MAR-VELOUS. This powder clings as you've always wanted powder to cling-and never thought it could.

Marvelous, indeed, is a different kind of powder, a different blend, developed by the Richard Hudnut laboratories after years of searching for a new, longer-clinging powder.

The Marvelous blend contains a substance entirely new to face powder-with a remarkable power to cling to your skin. In a sense, it becomes part of your own skin texture.

INTERNATIONAL RELIEF UNION ACTS

(By H.P.S. Matthews)

The International Relief Union, an organisation set up jointly by the League of Nations and the International Red Cross Union, has been quick to send aid to the sufferers from the Quetta disaster. An appeal for funds has been sent out to the Red Cross Societies, and contributions have already been received from America, the Netherlands, Spain and Jugo-Slavia.

This is the second occasion on which India has benefited from the help of the International Relief Union. On the occasion of the Bihar earthquake, financial help was also sent for the sufferers from this source.

The creation of the International Relief Union was due in the first place to the initiative of an Italian. Senator Ciraclo, of the Italian Red Cross. It was he who first urged the creation of an international body at Geneva which would be in countries in which a great disaster had occurred of such a magnitude Ice House Street. as severely to strain their national resources.

The theory is that since the price this might be seriously interfered with by sales at less ! than the domestic price.

President Roosevelt, in a message to Congress, is asking for speedy legislation to create voluntary system of oil control. and it is expected, following a White House conference at which agreement was reached on a compromise, the Bill will provide Congressional ratification of the oil States compact, the formation of an independent Petroleum Administrative Board, the limitation of oil imports, and the making permanent of the Connally Oil oil in Inter-State commerce. A Bill was introduced in the House to-day to form the basis of Congressional action along these lines. -Reuter.

, (By A. E. R. GILLIGAN)

London, July 13. not the slightest doubt that England are "up against it" in this series of Tests, if the South African bowlers Wooderson Blackheath continue to display their magnificent form of Saturday.

At the moment South Africa have a 25 per cent. better team in every department of the game, and it looks as though England only play as well as South Africa will allow.

A fine, sporting gesture was shown by the South African captain, Herbert Wade, before the start of the game. An urgent S.O.S. message had been went for Mitchell to replace Leyland, who was suffering from lumbago.

WADE'S SPORTING ACT

That was after lunch, when Hammond, who batted right on the crest of his best form, attacked the bowling with some smashing drives and back strokes off his right foot.

Hammond's batsmanship was undoubtedly one of the outstanding features of a remarkable day's cricket, which will long be remembered for the best sustain-

This ball pitched at the middle and off, lifted very quickly, and just ran away sufficiently for Wyatt to have to play it.

Barber, D. Smith and Sims all made a promising debut in England's ranks. Barber watched the ball carefully and had an exceptionally good leg stroke which brought him the majority of his runs. Smith played confidently and lost no opportunity to hit out at the overpitched delivery. Mitchell deserves great praise for a gallant innings, especially as he was called in at the last moment His dourness and pluck undoubtedly saved England from collapse when Hammond left.

London, Aug. 6.
Yorkshire have quickly recovered from their recent debacle in the County Cricket Champion-Essex (372 and 252 for 8 ship and in their annual Battle of wkts. dec.) beat Worcestershire | the Roses with Lancashire at Bradford they won by seven wickets after forcing the champions to follow-on.

It was William Bowes, the fast bowler, who made victory possible for the present leaders by taking twolve wickets during the course of the match for a total of 99 runs and holding the beat Glamorgan (227 and 154) | champion county to a score of 53 in their first innings.

Yorkshire had first lease of the wickets and put up 226 runs, a total none too impressive against a strong side like Lancashire, but the visitors to Bradford failed miserably and were dismissed for 63. Bowes had six victims for only 16 runs,

The follow-on was enforced and Lancashire put up a much, better showing, although the visitors were unable to put defeat beyond the Yorkshiremen. At 352 the innings came to a close, Washbrook scoring 85 runs. Bowes again caused all the damage, taking six for 88.

With three wickets down Yorkshire scored 181 runs for a seven-wicket

THE LEAGUE AND ABYSSINIA

Critics of the League of Nations—the smaller Powers naturally most vocal—are again making their opinions known. The suggestion is that in its handling of the Italo-Abyssinian crisis, the interests of a small nation have been subordinated to those of the major Powers. This, however, is hardly true. All that has actually occurred is that Italy's consent has been secured to a compromise, under the terms of which the Conciliation Commission, with the addition of a fifth representative, will resume its deliberations on the Ualual incident in an effort to reach a decision by September 1, and, in any event, the League Council will again meet on September 4 for a ous aspects of Italo-Ethopian British, French and Italian delegates are to meet and start negotiations under the 1906 Treaty, with the objective of facilitating a solution of the dispute. The position was correctly summed up in one news despatch stating that the compromise reached amounts to a postponement of the issue, with an obligation on the League to act if arbitration fails. The Abyssinian delegate has definitely stated that his country will accept without reservation the decision of the Commission, assurance that Italy will do likewise. So far as Abyssinia is concerned, she being the weaker of the two nations who are parties to the dispute, the position is not by any means reassuring. Some days before the compromise was attained, have been struck by a side stroke it was reported that Britain or splash from a house or a tree. would demand that Italy should make no attack while negotiations are proceeding, but that been removed from the hands demand has obviously been of the League. As Mr. Eden

NOTES OF THE DAY

BLIND PATRIOTS Every now and then some misguided man, motivated by what might be termed perverted patriotism, attempts to avenge the aginary, which some alleged oppressor has heaped upon his nation. Another opinion is that of an observant motorist who expresses doubt if the low construction of a car obviates risk. Even the iron plates covering manholes have been frequently struck, and the low altitude of man and beast in the open field does not prevent accidents. The reason why motorists should drive slowly in a thunderstorm, it is explained, is but so far there is no definite that the current of air induced by a fast-moving car acts as a conductor for lightning. Kelly Captures H.K. For The British

. By Capt. Eddle Kelly

Mr. Kelly thinks it a pity that a contemporary stopped its "Old Hongkong" series. Lately he's been burrowing into the Government archives and has discovered a document which is apparently the original report of Captain Elliott, who took possession of Hongkong, to the Lords of the Admiralty.

The document has been translated from the Oxford by Mr. Kelly at great personal expense

As we slowly steamed into the harbour from Lyemoon, we were impressed with the native hutments lining the shore, one cunningly-built matshed, in course of erection, being we were informed, the central joss house where, upon completion, the native population will house all their gold and silver treasures.

Our actual landing was not without incident. As I stepped approached and asked me if I had anything to declare. . I informed him that I had to declare this spot British territory in the name of King George. He tapped his Another shock for you! The forehead in salutation and backed

> Naturally one of my first considerations was to find a camping place for the night. Crossing the native quarters once more and, at the expense of a few more tots of rum, we were guided to a huge native caravanserai known, I believe, as the Heung Keung Hostel. The drinking supply here is excellent, nor shall we want for food, which is also available in large quantities. Another feature of this site, is the hot and cold water springs most ingeniously controlled so as to flow in and out of

An observation of the curious sight-seers who crowded around us at our camping site convinces me that this part of China must have at one time been a trading centre for the old European civilisation. Many of the inhabitants are startingly fair to gaze upon, the Nordic type predominating. Like other indigenes met elsewhere in my voyages, they claim to have come originally from the Great White Mother over the seas.

I have made several excursions into the country, and one occasion penetrated across the Island to a small inlet which I have named. Repulse Bay, bestowing this name upon the site because I suffered indignity at the hands of a blonde native woman whom: I captured.
I also ventured to the top of the mountain where the natives never seem to go to sleep, but do go inand out of their cave dwellings by day and by night. The lemales paint themselves with great skill, and they make merry, living on salmon, which they fish cunningly out of tin hiding places, and other similar native foods, and also strange liquid called a ginslingvery potent, and I have had to keep my crows from imbibling it. maintaining a privy supply o mine own. The Hon, Secretary stated that he had received a communication from the Royal Artillery stating that they intended entering two teams in the Frat Division during the coming season. One would be from Stonecutters and the other from Lyemoon. The meeting agreed to leave the matter in the hands of the League

Management Committee. In connection with this matter, Mr. A. V. Gosano said that as a player he felt the strain last season of having to play too many matches. He though the Council should restrict the number of entries to a certain division.

The Chairman said Mr. Gosano's

London, July 15. It was appropriate that the Chepstow course where at one meeting in 1993 Gordon Richards had eleven winners out of twelve rides, should have been the scene on Saturday of the champion jockey's hundredth success of the present season. Three winners during the afternoon brought his score to date to 101 wins out of 484 rides. Next on the list are Perryman with 50 winners, Weston 44, and H. Wragg. who had three successes on Saturday at Hamilton Park. 40.

Richards brought off a double for the Beckhampton stable with All Ready and Avertin. Slight odds were betted on the second of these, but All Ready was a 7 to 2 chance for the Wyndelysse Handicap and returned a dividend of 5 to 1 on the tote.

Reshevsky Loses On Time-Limit

London, July 12. Disaster befell the hitherto unbeaten leaders yesterday in all three of the principal tournaments at the Great Yarmouth Chess Congress.

In the British championship, R. P. Michell was defeated by W. Winter, who forced his win by a surprise sacrifice of the exchange.

Samuel Reshevsky actually lost by infringing the time-limit at the end of the second hour of his game with Miss Vera Menchik, woman champion of the world. He was at that stage a pawn ahead with a safe position ..

Reid by a remarkable oversight, leaving a rook to be captured for nothing. Mrs. Michell now leads. Sir George Thomas, the reigning British champion, failed to survive a most critical end-game against Golombek, who now shares the lead

In their second innings Essex made 252 for eight wickets, declared. The Midlanders again found Read too good for them, and were all outfor 185, Read taking 4 for 49. He thus took ten wickets during the match, for 11 runs. Score: Essex 372 and 252 for eight, declared. Worcestershire, 184 and 185.

Kent beat Gloucestershire by 60 runs; a good first innings knock, covering up a collapse in the second Batting first Kent made 335, to which Gloucester retaliated with 316, Wally Hammond making 163. Kent then went down rather ignominiously before Sinfield, (5 for 40). and Goddard (5 for 49), only totalling 135. However, by this time the wicket was in a pretty worn state and Freeman's slows played havoc, the googly merchant getting four men out for 22 runs, and the whole side only making 94.

Score: Kent 885 and 135. Gloucestershire, -- 805, and 94.-

WORKERS BATTLE WITH TROOPS

CUTS IN PAY RESENTED

A serious situation, has arisen in the Naval Dockyards here following yesterday's lightning strike, called by arsenal workers an a protest against ten per cent. wage outs under the new economy decree laws.

The workers refused to resume work on the cruiser. Dunkirque, while guards remain posted aboard to maintain order.

The workers swarmed into other yards stirring up their comrudes; until the whole dockyard was seething.

Troops and marines tried to round up the workers but met with a lively bombardment of tools and bottles. The dockyard was eventually closed and the workers marched to town singing the Internationale.—Reuter.

STIFF BATTLE

Brest, Aug. 6. The Government Manitime Arsonal workers abandoned construction of the cruiser Dunkirgue and rioted to-day as a protest against pay cuts which were part of the budget balancing deconomy. They forced the closing of the Arsenal.

The rioters swept into Brest and paraded the streets. Heavy forces of police, troops and mobile guards battled for an hour with the rioters and finally cleared the streets in the vicinity of the Arsenal itself. However, rioting continued in the Rua Siam, Brest's main thoroughfare.

Peiping, Aug. 6.

Mr. Tao Shang-min, Counsellor of the Peiping Political Council, who failed to return to his home after, calling at the office of the Japanese Military Attache yesterday to discuss the Luanchow murder, is believed to be detained in the compound of the Japanese Legation.

On report states that on Chinese official enquiries being made, a member of the Military Attache's staff explained that Mr. Tao is being detained, "but is being treated well and is helping to solve the problem of Liu Tsu-chow's murder."

General amazement is expressed at the Japanese action in detaining a high Chinese official, especially as the detention appears to have been done by a minor Japanese official. Major Takahashi, the Military Attache, is at present absent in Shansi, but is expected. back to-night.

(By H.P.S. Matthews)

The International Relief Union, an organisation set up jointly by League of Nations and the International Red Cross Union, has been quick to send aid to the sufferers from the Quetta disaster. An appeal for funds has been sent out to the Red Cross Societies, and contributions have already been received from America, the Netherlands, Spain and Jugo-Slavia.

This is the second occasion on which India has benefited from the help of the International Relief Union. On the occasion of the Bihar carthquake, financial help was also sent for the sufferers from this source.

The creation of the International Relief Union was due in the first place to the initiative of an Italian, Senator Ciraclo, of the Italian Red Cross. It was he who first urged The figures issued on July 30 the creation of an international body at Geneva which would be in countries in which a great disaster had occurred of such a magnitude Ice House Street. as severely to strain their national

SOLDIERS AS PORTERS

Soldiers acted as porters at Waterloo Station recently when two special trains carrying 945 survivors of the Quetta earthquake disaster arrived

Southampton. A strong cordon of police and soldiers kept the platforms clear. The Barriers were besieged by anxious relatives.

The story of their sufferings could still be read on their faces as the survivors were escorted to waiting ambulances and charabancs.

They had been provided with rallway warrants to their homes. Money to pay taxi fares was given to them and food was provided for the journey.

MAYOR'S WELCOME

Among the arrivals was Captain Ford, who was in charge of the Grammar School at the time of the earthquake.

He was accompanied by his little daughter, aged 14, who lost her grandfather, grandmother, and sister in the disaster. The survivors spoke in the warmest terms of the heroic services rendered by the medical staff, and praise for the handling of the situation by the Government was universal. The Mayor of Southampton (Mr. G. B. Waller) welcomed the survivors when they arrived in Southampton Water on board the s.s. Karanja. He conveyed to them a message from the Secretary of State for India (the Marquis of Zetland), in which Lord Zetland again expressed the sympathy of the ment. Government with all those who had suffered "from this calamitous i carthquake."

THE HERO

Lieut.-Colonel J. W. Vanreenen, of the Indian Medical Service, who was in medical charge of the refugee camp which was set up POWER AND COMMUNICATIONS A tube led from the exhaust pipe on the race-course after the earthquake, paid a tribute to the hero Quetta, Major-General Karslake, the Army Commander.

"He maintained a firm grip on the whole situation from start to finish," said Lieut.-Colonel Vanreenen. "No tribute is too great for his organisation. "When he rode into the camp the natives literally flocked around him. They looked upon him as the man who had saved them from an'even worse fate than that which they had already endured.

"He was their hero, and so it was with the British officers generally. The natives literally fell on the ground before them. One old man said to me that he never realised before what the British officers stood for."

DOGS GIVE THE ALARM

Barking dogs prevented Chinese from entering 9 Shek-O. the residence of Mr. E. J. R. Mitchell, in the early hours of yesterday, when Mr. Mitchell found the man standing in the grounds near the verandah.

Brought before Mr. Schofield at the Central Magistracy this morning, the man, Wong Yu-wing, 24, unemployed, was sentenced to two months' hard labour on a charge of being found on the premises and being unable to give a satisfactory account.

Sergeant Groves prosecuted and stated that when defendant was unable to explain his presence, Mr. Mitchell locked him in the confroom and then called for the police.

FLYING CLUB LIQUIDATION

NO QUORUM AT MEETING

No quorum was formed at a meeting of members of the Hongkong Flying Club called for noon to-day at Messrs. Lowe, Bingham & Matthews' office.

Only Mr. E. M. Bryden, C.A. joint liquidator, and the Press were present.

The meeting was called to receive the final report and accounts of the joint liquidators which will now go forward to the Government. It will be remembered that members agreed to relinquish claim to all assets the Club might have when it was voluntarily wound up and, failing a formation of a similar Club before November, 1935, the assets are to be passed on to the Government.

INDECENT ASSAULT

UNEMPLOYED ACTOR SENTENCED

Six months' imprisonment was the sentence passed by Mr. Macfadyen at the Central Magistracy this morning on Yu Suenlung, aged 28, unemployed actor, on a charge of indecently assaulting Mrs. E. Clemo on Saturday. Inspector M. Murphy stated that Mrs. Clemo was walking with a friend in Queen's Road Central, near the China Emporium, when defendant came up and indecently assaulted her and pushed her off the footpath. Mrs. Clemo then turned round and slapped him in the face.

The Inspector added that the same lady was assaulted in a similar way some time ago, and other European ladies had also been treated in the same way.

Captures H.K. Kelly For The British

By Capt. Eddle Kelly

Mr. Kelly thinks it a pity. that a contemporary stopped its "Old Hongkong" series. Lately he's been burrowing Into the Covernment archives and has discovered a document which is apparently the original report of Captain Elliott, who took possession of Hongkong, to the Lords of the Admiralty.

The document has been translated from the Oxford by Mr. Kelly at great personal expense----

> > Naturally one of my first conelderations was to find a camping place for the night. Crossing the harbour to the island I entered the native quarters once more and, at the expense of a few more tots of rum, we were guided to a huge native caravanserai known, I believe, as the Heung Keung Hostel. The drinking supply here is excellent, nor shall we want for food, which is also available in large quantities. Another feature of this site, is the hot and cold water springs most ingeniously controlled so as to flow in and out of basins.

An observation of the curious sight-seers who crowded around us at our camping site convinces me that this part of China must have at one time been a trading centre for the old European civilisation. Many of the inhabitants: are startingly fair to gaze upon, the Nordic type predominating. Like other indigenes met elsewhere in my voyages, they claim to have come originally from the Great White Mother over the seas.

I have made several excursions into the country, and one occasion penetrated across the island to a small inlet which I have named Repulse Bay, bestowing this name upon the site because I suffered indignity at the hands of a blonde native woman whom I captured.
I also ventured to the top of the mountain where the natives never seem to go to aleep, but do go in and out of their cave dwellings by day and by night. The females paint themselves with great skill. and they make merry diving on salmon, which they fish cumningly out of tin hiding places, and other similar native foods, and also a strange Hould called a ginsling very potent and Linave had to keep my greek from imbibing

Buck Brings New Drama Of Jungles

TELLS OF THRILLING EXPERIENCES

COOL HEAD NEEDED

Just back from the jungle and bringing with him 100,000 feet of thrilling film, Mr. Frank Buck, of "Bring 'Em Back Alive" fame, arrived in Hongkong this morning | Willingdon, whose term of office

It is expected to be released about | has been announced some months | the end of October and at present | before Lord Linlithgow takes office the tentative name is "Fang and may be interpreted as an indica-

The most remarkable thing about the latest film made by the famous animal catcher is that it does not contain the record of a single fight. "Bring 'Em Back Alive" was full of fights between animals," said Mr. Buck, "but this film has been made interesting, I believe, without showing a single fight."

The actual "shooting" of the picture has occupied almost seven months, Mr. Buck leaving New York on December 7 last year and spending some months in India and then going to Malaya.

"It is much the same type of picture as those that have gone before it," said the hunter, "but it | will be the first Governor-General, has different sequences. It will certainly interest those who like animal pictures."

The months spent in the jungle were "uneventful" according to Mr. Buck. Nothing exciting occurred. "I caught the biggest tiger I have over seen; he was over ten feet long, and also four other smaller ones."

PYTHON ATTACKS "BOY"

On another occasion Mr. Buck was walking through the jungle, with a camera taking a record of the scene since that particular spot was particularly interesting. It turned out to be more interesting than expeced, for a python suddenly grabbed the leg of the head boy. The enake threw the boy before Mr. Buck was able to reach it, and then, with the aid of other natives, he finally subdued it. There was no rope handy and so boys were sent to gather rattan in the jungle. The python was finally carried back to the camp captive, nothing more than hands and rattan having been used in the process.

All the animals were sent from Malaya by a cargo ship direct to America; Mr. Buck coming on the liner as he wanted to reach America as soon as possible. He will change to the President Coolldge when in Japan. Four camera-men who came with Mr. Buck will continue from Hongkong on the Empress of Canada which sails on Friday. Mr. Buck is accompanied by his wife.

A fine, sporting gesture was shown by the South African captain, Herbert Wade, before the start of the game. An urgent S.O.S. message had been sent for Mitchell to replace Leyland, who was suffering from lumbago.

WADE'S SPORTING ACT

Wyntt was unable to declare his team, but Wade most generously waived the law, and the toss was proceeded with. This was "cricket" In the true sportsmanlike spirit.

reason why they should not give this Permission was accordingly grant-

The Hon. Secretary stated that he had received a communication from the Royal Artillery stating that they intended entering two teams in the Frst Division during the coming season. One would be from Stonecutters and the other from Lyemoon. The meeting agreed to leave the matter in the hands of the League Management Committee. In connection with this matter, Mr.

A. V. Gosano said that as a player he felt the strain last season of having to play too many matches. He though the Council should restrict the number of entries to a certain division. The Chairman said Mr. Gosano's comments would be brought to the notice of the League Management in 34 with the match square, then scription for the Ryder Cup Fund. CENTURY FOR GORDON RICHARDS

OF SEASON

WELL AHEAD OF RIVALS

(By "Watchman")

London, July 15. It was appropriate that the Chepstow course where at one meeting in 1933 Gordon Richards had eleven winners out of twelve rides, should have been the scene on Saturday of the champion jockey's hundredth success of the present season. Three winners during the afternoon brought his score to date to 101 wins out of 484 rides. Next on the list are Perryman with 50 winners, Weston 44, and H. Wragg. who had three successes on Saturday at Hamilton Park. 40.

Richards brought off a double for the Beckhampton stable with All Ready and Avertin. Slight odds were betted on the second of these, but All Rendy was a 7 to 2 chance for the Wyndelyffe Handicap and returned a dividend of 5 to 1 on the tote.

CHESS LEADERS DEFEATED

Reshevsky Loses On Time-Limit

London, July 12. Disaster befell the hitherto unbeaten leaders yesterday in all three of the principal tournaments at the Great Yarmouth Chess Congress.

In the British champlonship, R. P. Michell was defeated by W. Winter, who forced his win by a surprise encrifice of the exchange.

Samuel Reshevsky actually lost by infringing the time-limit at the end of the second hour of his game with Miss Vera Menchik, woman champion of the world. He was at that stage a pawn ahead with a safe position.

In the British women's championship Mrs. Stevenson lost to Miss E. M Reid by a remarkable oversight. leaving a rook to be captured for nothing. Mrs. Michell now leads. Sir George Thomas, the reigning British champion, failed to survive a most critical end-game against Golombek, who now shares the lead with Michell.

COUNTY CRICKET

In their second innings Essex made 252 for eight wickets, declared. The Midlanders again found Read too good for them, and were all out for 185, Read taking 4 for 49. He thus took ten wickets during the match, for 11 runs. Score: Essex 372 and 252 for eight, declared. Worcestershire, 184 and 185.

Kent beat Gloucestershire by 60 runs, a good first innings knock, covering up a collapse in the second

Batting first Kent made 335, to which Gloucester retaliated with 316, Wally Hammond making 163. Kent then went down rather ignominiously before Sinfield, (5 for 40), and Goddard (5 for 49), only totalling 135. However, by this time the wicket was in a pretty worn state and Freeman's slows played havoc, the googly merchant getting four men out for 22 runs, and the whole side only making 94. Score: Kent 335 and 135. Gloucestershire, 305, and 94.—

Neusel and Carnera are to have their contest in Amsterdam on September 8 or 15, says Neusel's I manager.

Barbara Stamwyck lives on the ocean, at Malibu Beach, California, a large part of the year. But she went twenty-five miles from the ocean, to the First National studios in North Hollywood, to get a case of real sen sickness. The sickness developed in the production of the picture, "The Woman in Red," which is now showing at the Alhambra. In one sequence Barbara appears on a yacht off Long Island. The scene calls for quito a swell on the ocean, as one girl falls overboard and is drowned. Most of the shots were taken on the Pacific at Santa Monica, but close-ups were made in the studio on an improvised yacht built on rollers so that it would toss like a real yacht. rapidly became worse and on July 23 her temperature was 105. It was then that the defendant told Mr. Waan that the child must be immediately removed to the French Hospital. The child's condition was dangerous and Mr. Waan suggested that before she was removed the hospital another doctor should be consulted.

CHILD SUCCUMBS

The defendant then refused again, it was alleged, to call in another opinion and the child was taken in the defendant's motor car to the French Hospital where she was seen by the doctor in charge at 8 o'clock that evening. At 12.50 the following morning, the child died.

The prosecution alleged that the defendant did not call in a second opinion and the fact that he removed the child in a dangerous condition, with temperature of 105, without obtaining such second opinion, constituted wilful neglect.

Mr. Brooks mentioned that the second opinion suggested by his client on July 20 was Professor W. I. Gerrard, of the Hongkong University, and the child was seen at the French Hospital by Dr. J. H. Montgomery.

His Worship fixed hearing for Monday at 2.30 p.m. and also reserved the afternoons of August 14. 15 and 16.

SEEKING SETTLEMENT

The Minister for League of increased until they occupy eight | Nations Affairs, Mr. Anthony Eden, with the Foreign Secretary, Sir Samuel Honre, this afternoon visited the Prime Minister Mr. Stanley Baldwin, at Downing Street and the three Ministers had a long discussion with regard to the Italo-Abyssinia dispute. In the light of Mr. Eden's report on and his impressions of the proceedings at Geneva it is still expected that a meeting of the Cabinet will be held in the next few days.

It is expected that the French Government, as the inviting power, will propose that negotiations bethe representatives of Britain, France and Italy, signatories of the 1906 treaty, to facilitate solution of the Itale-Abyasinian dispute, should begin next week, either in Paris or in its neighbourhood.

This arrangement will enable the conference to remain in touch if necessary with the Abyssinian Minister in Paris .- British Wire-the Negus answered that the League, on numerous occasions, had rendered valuable economic and social aid to his country, without restricting in any respect the independence of the people.

"I should not refuse such assistance if it were offered again.

NO DANGER TO FOREIGNERS

"Foreigners acquainted with us know that no danger exists for them in the event of war," the Negus went on. "The Governfent/contemplates special measures to protect foreigners lives and property in the event of hostilities or movements of troops in their vicinity."

Asked whether he would consider meeting Signor Mussolini on neutral ground, if such a meeting could be arranged, the Negus said that no such meeting had yet been proposed.

"If such a proposal were made I believed I would be obliged to consider it." The Emperor impressed the correspondent with his determination to do his utmost to preserve peace. But he also showed that he would wage war inexorably if the Italians invaded Ethiopia.

TREMENDOUS WORKER

The Emperor works eighteen hours daily and possesses a marvellous grasp of the detail of his nation's organisation, both in civil and military matters.

The Tribal chiefs from all parts of the country are daily calling at the palace and assuring the Negus of their loyalty and requesting arms and ammunition.

The Emperor is supplying them to the best of his ability from his limited arsenal, but it is an open secret that Abyssinia is extremely short of all sorts of weapons.

The strictest secrecy prevails with respect to troop movements and other preparatory measures which the country is taking to meet the threatened invasion by the Italian armies massing in Eritrea and Italian Somaliland .-Reuter.
